ABSTRACT

This annotated bibliography about health care reform is an attempt to list all federal government publications that focus on the topic, that have been issued since January, 1989, and that are held by U.S. Government Depository Libraries. The sources of the publications include: the Office of the President, the Department of Labor, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Congressional Budget Office, the General Accounting Office, the Office of Technology Assessment, and a variety of House and Senate committees. All citations include the title, SuDocs call number, length, and date. An appendix lists Regional U.S. Government Depository Libraries. (DB)

A Bibliography of
Recent Federal Publications on Health Care Reform

James M. Gravois

The appointment of Hillary Rodham Clinton to head a government inquiry into universal health care has focused the nation's attention on this issue. This guide is an attempt to bring together all recent federal publications held by Depository Libraries in the United States. In this case, "recent" is defined as "since the beginning of the Bush Administration," or January 1989 to the present.

Please note that not all federal publications fall within the Depository Library Program and, of those that do, not all make their way through the system to each library. This study is based on the depository items received by Auburn University, a selective depository, which collects some 99% of depository publications. Every effort has been made to verify that the items in this bibliography are, in fact, on the shelves of Auburn University Libraries.

There are some 1400 depository libraries scattered throughout the United States. Many will receive most of the items in this bibliography. However, the Regional Depositories found in most states should receive them all. Please consult the appended list of Regional Depository Libraries to find the one nearest your home.

Some citations include descriptive annotations, but all citations include at least the following: Title, SuDocs Call Number, Length, and Date. Federal publications before 1989 (except for a very few), journal articles, and commercial publications are not included here, but may prove useful for further research. To find more information on this topic, use the following Library of Congress subject headings:

S = Aged--Medical care
S = Insurance, Health
S = Medical care, Cost of
S = Medical policy--United States
S = Medicare--United States

EXECUTIVE BRANCH PUBLICATIONS

Office of the President

The President's Comprehensive Health Reform Program Feb. 1992
Pr 41.2:H 34 (94 pgs.)
This was President Bush's plan to guarantee health insurance for all Americans, control medical costs, and reform medical malpractice liability. Includes a bibliography.

Department of Labor

Health Benefits and the Workforce 1992
L 1.2:H 34/6 (269 pgs.)
The Department of Labor awarded a contract to the Rand Corporation to analyze employment and health insurance behaviors of firms and workers, monitor health insurance market practices and states' legislative activities, and model the impact of alternative reform proposals. This report summarizes their findings.

A Look at Health Benefits and the Workforce 1992
L 1.2:H 34/5 (35 pgs.)
A shorter work summarizing the information in the item just above.

Employee Benefits in a Changing Economy: A BLS Chartbook
L 2.3:2394 Sept. 1992 (72 pgs.)
This chartbook (a series of attractive graphs with sparse text) presents an array of information on employer-provided benefits and shows how they have changed over time. About one quarter of the book deals with medical benefits.

Department of Health and Human Services

The Public Health Service has sponsored a number of reports and surveys related to health expenditures. The following are arranged alphabetically, by title.

Assessments of Strategies to Promote Cost and Management Efficiencies in Tribal and Contract Health Services Programs: Final Report Dec. 1989
HE 20.9402:St 8 (103 pgs.)
This study summarizes the results of efforts to use alternative methods of providing and managing health care under the Indian Health Service.

Case-mix Specialization in the Market for Hospital Services
HE 20.6502:H 79/4 Dec. 1990 (25 pgs.)
This study suggests that U. S. hospitals tended to increase specialization between 1980 and 1985 and that this coincided with reduced hospital costs and greater efficiency.

Determinants of Total Family Charges for Health Care: United States, 1980 HE 22.26/4:8 Nov. 1990 (66 pgs.)
This report uses the family as the unit of analysis in attempting to determine the precise burden of health expenses. Total charges for health care are compared with out-of-pocket expenses, thereby giving a clearer indication of financial impact on families.

The Economic Costs of Alcohol and Drug Abuse and Mental Illness: 1985 HE 20.8002:C 82 1990 (296 pgs.)
Strictly speaking, this is not a study of health care costs per se, but rather an attempt to measure the economic costs to society of alcohol and drug abuse and mental illness. The authors used data for 1985, the most recent year for reliable data.

Estimating the Use and Costs of Medical, Social, and Support Services for Persons with AIDS and ARC
HE 20.6512/6:M 46/4 1988 (139 pgs.)
This study sets forth a methodology for obtaining detailed and uniform baseline data on the use and costs of services for persons with AIDS and AIDS-related complications (now called HIV).

Financially Distressed Hospitals: A Profile of Behavior Before and After PPS HE 20.6514:14 Sept. 1990 (19 pgs.)
This study examines relationships between financial distress and hospital revenues, costs, payment sources, treatment patterns, and patient discharge status. Results suggest that financially-distressed hospitals tend to serve the poorly insured and uninsured more than solvent hospitals.

Financing Health Care for People with AIDS: the Role of the Health Care Financing Administration
HE 22.2:Ac 7 1990 (21 pgs.)
This booklet provides an overview of the Health Care Financing Administration and its role in financing health care benefits for individuals with HIV infection and AIDS. HCFA administers the Medicare program and the Federal share of the Medicaid program.

Health Insurance Coverage in the U. S. 1989
HE 20.6502:In 7/4 (4 pgs.)
A very brief summary of the topic, based on the 1987 National Medical Expenditure Survey. Includes graphs and statistics.

Health Insurance, Use of Health Services, and Health Care Expenditures HE 20.6517:12 Dec. 1991 (18 pgs.)
This report from the 1987 National Medical Expenditure Survey focuses on the relationship between insurance coverage and the use of health services, total expenditures, total out-of-pocket payments, and the proportion of medical care expenditures paid out of pocket.

Medicaid Management Information Systems: Provider Participation, Cost Containment Initiatives: State Characteristics — Summer 1991
HE 22.2:M 46/32 — (34 pgs.)

This report is the result of a survey of the MMIS designed to focus on whether states have adopted certain systems improvements to facilitate provider participation and/or contain costs.

Protocol 3: Comparisons of the Cost Effectiveness of Alternative Models for Organizing Services for Persons with AIDS
HE 20.6512/6:C 82 — May 1988 — (88 pgs.)

The purpose of this report is to develop research protocols that can be used to guide future research about how to organize systems of care for treating AIDS victims.
